

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:

Tuesday, December 2, 1913.

ANDREAS LAVRONIA, the Italian who was arrested a few days since charged with the plundering of Tom Carson's room in Philo Rice's Lodging-house on the 9th of November, was brought before Mr. Justice Witherell yesterday for examination, but the defendant not being ready for that ceremony, the case was put over till to-day. We wouldn't do anything in the world to prejudice Andreas' case, but if what we hear of him is true—that he is looked on with disfavor by his countrymen, who accuse him of sundry small ventures in the larcenous way both here and in California, we should be inclined to harbor a suspicion that the manner of his possessing himself of Mr. Carson's sager breeches was not altogether regular and virtuous. Moreover, Andy looks like a thief—and nature hardly ever perpetrates a misdeed in building the human face divine. On account of his youth and previous condition of a wood-chopper, however, were we seated sternly, or otherwise, upon the throne of Justice, as Mr. Witherell is, we should, we think, have a bias in favor of holding Messer Lavronia subject to the microscopic investigations of the next Grand Jury.

THE STORMY SEASON has set in just as we predicted it would. If we do say it ourselves, ours is a wonderful, almost miraculous gift of prophecy—our capacity for making unerring weather predictions is. (We take no pride in it—but it is remarkable.) The mutterings and suspicious gatherings of idle clouds and the unseasonable skurrings of vagrant gusts and cat's paws of outcast winds which have been so noticeable of late, brought on their own natural culmination Saturday night, and so we had a rain storm which lasted at intervals all through Sunday; and about the time that the unnamable Boreas discovered the moist and lamb-like nature of the storm he came charging down like a San Francisco policeman upon an unprotected Chinaman and just ripped things from him. That's how we happened to get the soul-searching blizzard that was belched out of King's Canyon all day yesterday, flitting long streaks and strings of cutting sleet and sand and small bowlders into the face of man and beast and bird. Yesterday was a lamentable success in the weather line and ushered in the month of December as if he meant business and proposed to assert the full force of the winter time without any needless preliminaries.

JOHN STEWART who was convicted of murder in the first degree in the District Court for Esmeralda county a few days since has been brought back here for safe keeping and is now lodged in the Ormsby County Jail. He arrived on Saturday last in charge of Sheriff Helm of Esmeralda. Stewart is under sentence of death. The execution will take place at Aurora on the 9th day of January next, provided no delays of the law intervene to prevent. This intervention is quite likely, for the case will go to the Supreme Court on appeal and it is probable that a stay of proceedings will be granted—which will carry the matter into the January term. The crime of which Stewart stands convicted is the killing, at Columbus, of one Frank Durand. He and Durand had had a quarrel, and Stewart killed him the next day while he was standing at a bar in a drinking-house—shot him through the body from behind—kneeling down, outside the door and taking dead aim at him. These are substantially the facts as developed at the trial. No wonder at the verdict. After the killing, Stewart ran away and was captured in Utah. He is depressed under his gloomy prospects but not hopeless—looking to the Supreme Court for relief.

THE PIERCE CASE (murder trial) will come up before the District Court for Douglas county on Wednesday—tomorrow. We greatly regret to learn that the chief witnesses on behalf of the people are not on hand for the second trial. Dr. Mooklar, whose professional opinion in the matter was of great importance, has gone away and so has Billy Mann, the only person who saw the killing done. It is to be hoped, however, that Mann has not gone so far but he may be on hand when needed, or, that in case he should not be within reach of a summons, the District Attorney, William Patterson Esq. may be able to establish a strong enough chain of circumstantial evidence to secure the second conviction of this malignant and cowardly murderer. Justice to society demands Pierce's conviction and punishment—for if ever a cruel and needless homicide was committed, such a crime was done at his hands when he slaughtered the poor, helpless invalid, George Wilson.

SKATING RINK.—Owing to the inclemency of the weather there was not as many at the Rink last evening as on the opening night. A club to be known as the "Pioneer Skating Club" was formed, some twenty-five signing. The club, as soon as there are forty members, are to have the exclusive use of the Rink on Monday and Thursday evenings if each week—membership $5 per month—which admits gentleman and lady with use of skates. Mr. Zimmerman informs us that he is negotiating with some of the best skating talent of California to appear at the Rink at an early date.

THE ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY held their Annual Supper and Reunion at their hall over Winnie & David's stable last night. Two tables, the entire length of the hall, profusely set out with the best things of the market, cooked in Henry Kaiser's best style, were lined on either side with brawny Scots and their delighted guests. Rev. James Woods said grace and then we all fell too. The formalities of the occasion were begun by President Crawford in a really excellent speech and then followed some toasts. As we design to make a full report of everything that transpired for our issue of to-morrow, and the present time of writing being a very late hour of the night we will desist right here from any further particulars.

THEATRE.—There was a surprisingly good house at the Theater last night considering the inclemency of the weather. The Parquette was almost entirely occupied and the playing kept the audience in first rate humor. This means that the performance was satisfactory throughout. This is, what it advertises itself to be, a Vaudeville Troupe, and its line of plays are happily rendered and cleverly chosen. They leave here for Reno where they perform to-night. They are entitled to a liberal patronage.

THE ADDELPHIS have engaged for their party, Friday night, the services of the following professional musicians: Merzbach, piano; Jacobson, of Virginia, first violin; Wladski, second violin; Antoine Greife, cornet; and Jean Jacques Rousseau, bass. They will have a lean new canvas of their own stretched for the occasion. The Corbett Concert Hall will be brilliantly lighted for the dance with numerous Maxim Gas Jets. The Club have a regular meeting to-night, at the Capitol at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

It is expected that Minister DeLong will arrive in San Francisco on the 6th. Some of his friends have gone to San Francisco to meet him and give him welcome and post him on the Granger business and other friends. This is commendable and neighborly and also, moreover, a wise skirmish in the political way. Charles will be heartily greeted here even by those whose hearts would remain intact even if he never did succeed in getting his small body into a big chair in the Senate Chamber of our Uncle Sam.

MART REESE, we regret to state, is confined to his room at the White House with a very severe attack of pneumonia. His symptoms were sufficiently alarming to make it seem best to telegraph to his son in San Francisco to come up. We can't afford to have Mart on the sick list, much less to have him lose the number of his mess; and he must brace up and get better. The old man has many warm friends who remember his own thoughtful kindness in the sick room, and there is much sympathy for him amongst these and his acquaintance generally.

MOULDINGS, doors, windows, blinds, pickets and the like, can be obtained of Mr. G. W. White, on the most favorable terms. They are manufactured to order and kept constantly on hand. Carpenters and builders will do well to take a look at them. They may be seen at the shop next door to Davis' Planing Mills, on Carson street. See advertisement in the APPEAL of this morning.

WE HAD the pleasure of a visit from Hon. C. J. Hillyer yesterday. He is spending some days with his brother, the Judge. He will return before many days to Washington. We express a general wish by saying we regret the removal of his residence from the sage brush.

TOILET ARTICLES, Perfumery and Fancy Goods for the Holidays, have been added to Dr. Billings' stock of drugs and medicines, to which the attention of the public is invited. See the Doctor's advertisement under the head of new to-day in the APPEAL of this morning.

JOHN NEWHOUSE has lost one of his pair of silver sleeve buttons and is willing to "put up" for the return of the same. John values the lost article more on account of its associations than for its actual value.

CHARLEY FLANDEES who got hurt pretty severely a few nights since by jumping from the 4 o'clock a. m. train, at Empire, was sufficiently recovered from his injuries on Sunday as to be out and about as usual.

IN THE CASE of Ladd vs Ladd in the District Court for Ormsby county, on Saturday last, a decree was granted as prayed for by the plaintiff—the lady. She charged and proved adultery against her husband.

IN THE U. S. CIRCUIT COURT yesterday, Judges Sawyer and Hillyer presiding, the calendar was called, some business of little interest to the general public transacted and an adjournment had till to-day at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

WE NOTICED yesterday that Fox's stock of Holiday Goods—toys and things—was beginning to arrive.
